

Contain, Reduce, Recover Your Research Costs

As a legal executive, your job is to know the state of your firm's finances – where the money is coming from and where the money is going.

And you know that your licensed resources, like Westlaw and Lexis, are one place where the money is going.

AgentLegal, a comprehensive electronic resource management portal, tracks resource usage to enable you to reduce and recover associated costs, improving your bottom line revenue generation.

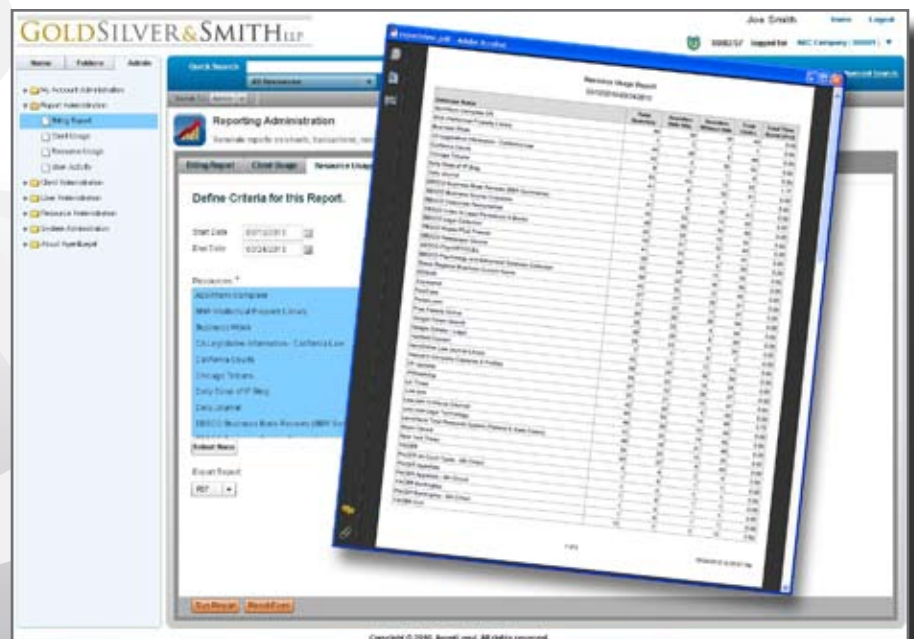

You can control user access to paid resources, eliminate subscriptions for underused resources and track activity against client matter numbers to facilitate accurate chargeback.

Additionally, our Software as a Service (SaaS) delivery lowers your total cost of ownership (TCO) by eliminating costly upfront licensing and equipment investments, as well as personnel time for ongoing maintenance. And increased productivity by users who can easily find information by searching simultaneously across multiple, disparate resources provides a quick return on investment (ROI).

Robust Reporting

AgentLegal's reporting feature allows you to track resource usage against users, clients, matters, as well as view billable hours.

Software as a Service (SaaS) Delivery

By employing the SaaS delivery option, AgentLegal will be fully supported, backed-up and maintained by our qualified staff and includes complete system setup and implementation of software, quick deployment and an easy upgrade path. The solution is also highly scalable, providing the ability to add users as necessary. Additional benefits provided by SaaS include:

- Reduced monetary risk with lower initial investment and total cost of ownership (TCO)
- Elevated customer satisfaction, ensuring broad user adoption and a transparent upgrade process
- Less internal IT involvement with installation and support provided by AgentLegal staff
- Secure and highly available facility and application environment

AgentLegal

AgentLegal enables searching of both internal enterprise databases and free or licensed external content to deliver aggregated results; helps manage e-discovery and other content collection; and tracks charge-back initiatives. The end result is an improved research workflow that increases process efficiency, staff productivity and profit margins. What you don't know will cost you.

With AgentLegal, now you know.
